SENATE CONTINUES HEARINGS ON CHARTER

The trouble is that the people are not reading the treaty but are accepting it on the basis of a hope that war can be prevented.

Former Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius opened the Senate hearings yesterday with a 30-minute defense of its major provisions and a plea for quick ratification of it as a "truly effective instrument for lasting peace."

Answers Questions

He was followed by Dr. Leo Passovitsky, State department expert on international organization, who appeared to answer detailed questions on the 10,000-word charter. Passovitsky continued on the stand as today's scheduled witness and was to be followed by Green H. Hackworth, State department expert on the new international court.

Time after time, Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, R. Mich., and Sen. Tom Connally, D. Tex., committee chairman, buttressed his testimony with explanations of the language they had helped to draft in San Francisco as the Senate's representatives on the American delegation to the United Nations conference.

Vandenberg emphatically affirmed the validity of the charter stand on the withdrawal question, that even though withdrawal is not mentioned in the United States can withdraw from the world organization at its own restricted option.

Connally disclosed that the committee now has about a dozen requests from "opposition" witnesses to testify.

There appeared to be no question in any Senate quarter that the charter would be ratified by an overwhelming majority, well over the necessary two-thirds of the Senate.

beef, pork and lamb which is now excluded from interstate shipment, and represents about one-third of the entire meat supply.

Acting under a new law recently passed by Congress, Anderson announced that he will soon make available to small slaughterers regulations under which they may request certification of the department to slaughter animals for interstate shipment without federal inspection.

The official said further that Anderson also is working out a plan to combat the poultry black market by creating a more normal distribution. This the secretary hopes to do by spreading out government, particularly army, procurement to relieve shortages in the eastern seaboard area.

Obesity is a family trait because habits of overeating are learned when young and a family that overeats will likely have children that overeat.

Mayor Speaks To Rotary Club On Recreation

Tells How Program Recently
Adopted in Meeting Needs Of Children Of City

Mayor John F. Haven addressed members of the New Castle Rotary club on his recreation plans for the young people of New Castle at the weekly luncheon meeting of the club in The Castleton Monday noon.

Mayor Haven told how the young people have greeted the Swing Lobby nights with great enthusiasm, and are now asking for a good restaurant which will serve sandwiches and soft drinks only.

The Swing Lobby sessions have enabled the young people from every section of the city to get better acquainted with each other and that between 32,000 and 34,000 young people have attended the Swing Lobby sessions so far. An overflow crowd attends each session, and it may soon be necessary to have two nights to accommodate everyone.

He stated that if the children of the city have enough wholesome recreation, they will have a good foundation for citizenship established for them.

He stated that the city of New Castle has appropriated $12,000 and the school board $5,000 for the playground program this summer, and that 13 playgrounds are in operation in various sections of the city.

In response to an inquiry, Mayor Haven stated that there has been no question about the decline in juvenile delinquency here since the program was adopted, and that New Castle has a better record for youth behavior than any city its size in the country.

Guests of the club included Lt. Orville F. Hays, recently returned home after being imprisoned in a Nazi prison, of war camp after his bomber was shot down over Germany a year ago.

Vice President Carlton J. Ferris presided in the absence of President Harold C. Haddad.

Next Collection Of Paper July 21

Scouts To Be Benefitted By Funds Netted In Monthly Ingathering

Saturday, July 21, has been set as the day for the July waste paper campaign in New Castle and adjoining areas. City Waste Paper Chairman Joseph A. Hartman announced today. At a meeting held Monday in the Castleton the committee set the date and announced that the net proceeds of the collection, after expenses had been deducted, would go to the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts.

The same technique as has been followed in previous collections will be used on July 21. Trucks will be furnished through the co-operation of the Lawrence Motor Truck association and adult volunteers will be secured by Co-Chairman Numa P. Vidai and Frank F. Sargent, New Castle co-ordinator of the OCD.

As the shipping to the Pacific mounts, the need for paper products cartons mounts. Only by the collection of waste paper can the need be met, and the waste paper has to come from homes, industries and business houses.

All kinds of waste paper are good. Newspapers, magazines, books and cardboard. Each should be bundled, separated in bundles of not more than 15 pounds, and placed on the curb in front of the home before noon on Saturday, July 21.

Trucks will pick up the bundles of paper in the afternoon, with Boy Scouts riding the trucks and one adult volunteer accompanying the truck driver. Better start saving that waste paper now for July 21.

Domestic Gas Curtailment Is Not Likely Here

Strike Of Workers Of United Fuel Gas Supply Company Affects Plant Supply

Despite the strike of 1000 employees of the United Fuel Gas Supply Company in the West Virginia area and a subsequent shortage of gas in western Pennsylvania, there appears to be no reason to believe that domestic consumption of gas in this district will be curtailed, said F. B. Burrell, New Castle manager of the Manufacturers Light and Heat Company today.

The strike of the gas union employees has resulted in all plants in Lawrence County that have standing fuel burning from gas being shut. This includes the Shenandoah Power Plant, Three Rivers, and the Erie Railroad Company's New Castle Refinery.

Should the shortage become more serious, Mr. Burrell said, some plants using gas would be forced to close. The situation is comparable to the heavy weather of January and Mr. Burrell said. There is no reason to believe the supply for domestic consumption will be curtailed.

The strike of the United Fuel Gas Supply Company, however, will curtail the supply of gas to the plant of the American Gas Company in New Castle and the National Tube Company in Ellwood City.

Employees of the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company also voted to strike but declined to take action until July 22. United Fuel employees voted 644 to 406 to join the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company, voted 164 to 24 in favor of a strike.

Bowles Under Fire Of Congressmen

Senator Charges O. P. A. Seeks To Become Permanent In American System

ANOTHER DECLARES BOWLES HAS FAILED

WASHINGTON, July 10.—(INS)—Sen. Elmer Thomas (D., Okla.) Senate agriculture committee chairman, charged today that the office of price administration is trying to attach itself permanently to the American system.

The Senate food investigation committee leader's statement was touched off by a letter circulated to congressmen in which OPA administrator Chester Bowles outlined OPA's reconversion plans.

"Their program is to keep OPA permanently — otherwise they wouldn't be so interested in fixing reconversion prices," Thomas said.

Attacks Bowles

At the same time, Thomas described Bowles as "helpless as a baby" in the management of OPA. "Bowles doesn't have any business in that position," Thomas asserted, adding:

"It's a mistake to bring people to Washington without experience with the public and put them in charge of vast programs."

Sen. Wherry (R., Neb.) declared that Bowles only job after the war ends will be "to unwind the controls."

He questioned whether he should ask the resignations of those who failed to produce food for the people, and failed to keep pace with reconversion.

Charges Bowles Has Failed

"I charge that Bowles has failed," Wherry said.

"In reconversion, I think he will not keep up with the release of restrictions so we can have full employment and return to a full measure of business in the country."

Wherry declared that back home, "the people are planning the responsibility for OPA policies on Congress."

"Congress is responsible," Wherry said. "People are charging us with the responsibility today if they are not getting proper administration of OPA laws." But, he charged, Bowles "has paid no attention to Congress."

Thomas called on President Truman to "back up" Agriculture Secretary Clinton Anderson as food czar. By transferring the war food administration powers to Anderson, Thomas said, the president "in effect, made him food czar."

As New Castle's citizen of the day and coming young businessman aged 12, He has just bought his third New Castle News paper route and his 14th War Bond, all from the proceeds of his newspaper deliveries.

He has just invested in his 13th $25 War Bond as his part in the war effort. Before that he opened up his participation in the war with a $100 bond for a starter.

As for the paper routes that have made it possible for him to do this, he took on entirely on his own initiative, he started with a small route, then took over another three times as large, both entirely paid for, and is now working to pay off a route five times the size of the first.

NOW SHE SHOPS "CASH AND CARRY" Without Painful Backache

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it causes nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Dean's Filix, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully for millions for over 40 years. Dean's gives happy relief and will help the 15 million of kidney troubles that are a poisonous waste from your blood. Get Dean's Filix.

General Electric answers your questions about 26,000,000 fuses. At the tip of this trench mortar shell is the M-51 fuse—most difficult mass production job ever done in plastics. Sixty-seven different operations check its perfection. Design was completed and mold started by G. E. the day before Pearl Harbor. Why was General Electric picked for this job?

PLASTICS

You'll find the answer right in your own kitchen. The handle on your coffee maker, the case on the kitchen clock, the light switch on the wall—chances are these are G. E. plastics. For General Electric has molded more plastic products here than anywhere else. And some you'd never guess. For example...

Cloth that wears like steel. Steel against steel means Wearfast. Imagine then a garment made of cloth, packed in layers, impregnated with resin, pressed under heat. Only enough G. E. engineers who discovered the formula for this cloth, which wears more than 100 times as long as ordinary cloth. Not only quicker, but actually outlasts steel.

Would plastic bazookas blow up? The first hundred plastic road fuses. Then G. E. laminated a rare paper with a special resin. The plastic tube stood the shock of repeated firings, was non-inflammable. Now, many planes carry these bazooka launchers. G. E. 1400 presses turn out everything from electronic equipment housings to submarine parts.

Salt-water-proof binoculars are new. And won't muddle in the tropics. General Electric worked these out with the U. S. Naval Observatory and specialists in optics. Plastics were combined with metal, and to make shrinkage the same, a new metal alloy was developed. This alloy is universal focus, specially treated for night vision.

How do plastics get born? Designers say what shape, how heavy or light, soft or hard. Engineers design special machinery. Chemists then invent the plastic to fit the need. Finally a factory can go to work. In war or peace, General Electric research and engineering count in plastics. General Electric Company, Schenectady, New York.

Seeking To Raise Bail For Release Of Mrs. Stevens

NEW CANAAN, Conn., July 10.—(INS)—Mrs. Eugene Stevens, 40-year-old sharpshooter from the Texas Panhandle, came with her husband, Mr. Eugene Stevens, to the Fairfield county jail today as her wealthy father-in-law reported to the court that he had paid $50,000 bail for her release.

Mrs. Stevens, accused of the June 23 slaying of Albert Kovacs, 19, submarine sailor, was arrested more than two weeks ago and after efforts to produce the bail bond failed, resigned herself to remaining in prison until her trial, scheduled for September, comes up.

Her husband, Mr. Eugene B. Stevens, III, who flew back to New York from Germany to announce her arrest, would sell everything I owned to get the required additional $25,000 to free her, with the balance to be paid in weekly payments, according to the report.

Major Leagues Play Benefits For Red Cross

Reds Trip Indians, Yanks

MORE GAMES ARE ON MENU TONIGHT

By CHARLES HENSTEN
(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, July 10.—If transportation difficulties hadn't stood in the way, this year's major league all-star game would have been played in Boston, the home of the bean and the cod.

But lest anyone should think that the worthy Red Cross benefit exhibition contest it becomes only too clear that the Lovells Cabots, Lodges and some 30,000 other Bostonians are going to get the baseball treat of their lives.

And when one further reflects that these two standout performers are slated to meet today when the Red Sox play host to the Braves in a Red Cross benefit exhibition contest, it becomes only too clear that the Lovells Cabots, Lodges and some 30,000 other Bostonians are going to get the baseball treat of their lives.

And on top of all that it should be remembered that this afternoon's activities up Boston way will constitute but one-seventh of the big league benefit exhibitions.

Start Ball Rolling

The ball started rolling last night when Cleveland, Chicago and New York turned on the floodlights while mighty throngs crammed into the parks to watch the inter-league battles.

The Cincinnati Reds visited Cleveland and took advantage of some fine Indian hospitality to shut out the tribe, 6 to 0.

Herschel Martin's grand-slam homer in the top of the third sparked the Yankees to a 7 to 1 victory over the Giants in an all-New York affair.

The Chicago White Sox played host to their neighbors, the Cubs, and beat the 5 to 4 in ten innings.

Tonight will see the windup of the exhibition affairs when the Brooklyn Dodgers travel to Washington to meet the Senators, the Cards and the Browns hook up in a "world series" at Sportsman's park, St. Louis, and the Phillies and A's box each other around in Philadelphia's Shibe park.

It is hoped to change the schedule to another evening, and announcement of the playing night will be made as soon as arrangements have been completed.

Denny Shute Is Leading Field In PGA Qualifying

DAYTON, O., July 10.—(INS)—Forty-year-old and likeable Denny Shute today has a ghost of an idea today what it's like to come back from the dead.

Yesterday as the opening 18-hole qualifying round was fired in the 27th National PGA tournament at Moraine Country club, Denny came back from golf's living dead with a five-under-par 67, giving him a one-stroke lead as the record field of 143 entrants swung into the final qualifying round today.

One of the six men to win the PGA more than once, Shute immediately sprang up as an overnight standout, shadowing such stars as Byron Nelson of Toledo, O., defending champion Bob Hamilton of Fort Lewis, Wash., Harold "Jug" Spinden of Philadelphia, Pa., and a half dozen others.

Yesterday's results, with the exception of stand-out performances such as that of Shute and a handful of others, were far below expectations.

Bombers-Pottery Deadlock Remains

DeCarbo Bombers Trounce Standard
Springs, Shenango Pottery
Defeats Universals

New Castle's red-hot industrial softball league first half championship race remained in a deadlock status today after two games were played last night. The W. E. DeCarbo Bombers trounced the Standard Springs team 9 to 2 at Gaston park as the Shenango Pottery posed out the Universal Pottery at Ryan-town 7 to 5.

The first half of the league season ends on Friday night and the Lockie Machines and Shenango Pottery game at Gaston park may decide the issue.

Frank Stone Stopped
The standard performance of the evening took place at Gaston park as Gabby DeCarbo, bloopered the Standards into submission on seven scattered hits and stopped the sensational Frank Stone cold without a hit, the first time in 16 straight games. Riley was the losing hurler, giving relief in the second inning by Norm Bishop.

Over at Ryan-town the Shenango Pottery was having a hard time to subdue a rampaging Universal Pottery team by a two-run margin. Barlett was the winning hurler and Adamo the loser.

Tonight the Lockie Machines will play the DeShon Annex team at the Annex field and must win to stay in the championship race.

Montgomery Wins By Split Decision

Philadelphian Gains Close
One Over Nick Moran As Fans Voice Disapproval

PHILADELPHIA, July 10.—(INS)—Lightweight Champion Bob Montgomery went down in the books today as the winner of his rematch against Nick Moran at Shibe Park but the swarthy Moran was taken to the hearts of the fans following an unpopular split decision.

The Bobcat, looking a lot tamer than the battler of old, was repeatedly doubled and then straightened out again as Moran lashed out with an attack of sharp hooks and stiff jabs. He opened up a cut on the champion's mouth in the first frame and pounded the Bobcat's lip to a pulp in the tenth.

Fans Disagree
The majority of the 13,035 fans who paid a gross gate of $43,607 to witness the non-title 10-rounder, hissed and booed the final verdict and stormed the ring with pillows and newspapers.

The Bobcat made his points amply on the infighting when he pummeled the Mexican with hard body blows, shifting now and then to the head.

Triphammer Westley Moulton, 135 of Philadelphia, peppered a one-sided decision over the local Dave Freeman, 141, in the 10-round semi-windup.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

WHEN do fish bite? This is a question that fishermen ask each other nowadays. Some eye the barometer and when it rises rush for a stream. Others watch the moon in the belief that it controls plant and animal life, or as one farmer told us recently, "we would no sooner plant potatoes in the light of the moon than leap off a hay wagon." He believes best results are obtained in the dark of the moon. Having a calendar at hand that purports to tell when fish will and will not bite is deemed to help from Ed. Wagnon's gift a few pointers which we have written up on a July 10. New moon, July 9, first quarter, July 17, full moon, July 21 and last quarter, July 21. During tomorrow, July 11, we discover that the rain cloud that has been hanging over us since July 14, will be broken by a shower of rain. The calendar reveals that bites will be lacking July 20-22, inclusive. Commencing July 23, fish will begin biting again and by August 2 they will be biting at their best through August 11. They take our good July 12, but taking care as each day succeeds until August 13-22, inclusive when results will be nil. They start to bite again August 23 but fair fishing will not be enjoyed until two days later. They will hit best beginning August 29 and keep it up to September 8 when fishing will be good but begin to taper off. They are expected to be fed up and inactive September 14. You may post the forecast in your tackle box. Remember, the writer does not give you the tips. They come from the calendar. It would be interesting if someone who fishes daily in a stream in which there are ten would keep a record of how the fish act from now until September 14.

Three thousand fishing kits are not in the process of procurement shipment to the Far East as the result of the Boy Scouts' Legion's efforts. Charles Nolan, streets department, expects fishermen to go on a vacation. "Won't be long until hundreds of kiddies will be helping in the Mayors Recreation Project dam."

Officer Comes 'Back From Dead'

Listed As Dead, Maj. Wesley Werner, Of St. Louis, Among Rescued Prisoners

SPENT 19 MONTHS
IN JAP PRISONS

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, July 10.—(AP)—Maj. Wesley Werner of St. Louis, Mo., came back from the dead today to tell of his dramatic rescue from a Japanese prison camp in Rangoon, where he spent 19 months.

He was captured by the Japs after his Liberator crashed in the jungles of Burma.

Listed As Dead

The 27-year-old pilot was officially listed as dead after being missing in action because he was out of contact with the outside world. Werner was one of two prisoners of his crew of 10.

The other survivor of the Liberator crew was T. Set Francis M. Daxley Jr. of Detroit, Mich. Two crew members were killed when the plane exploded, landing and six others died later in the prison camp.

The handsome 6-ft. three-inch major, with 129 Americans, 1,000 British and 50 Chinese captives, was liberated by British troops after the evacuation of Rangoon.

Five days prior to his liberation he and other prisoners capable of walking were taken on a forced 65-mile march through the jungles of southern Burma. Werner said he believed the Japs were trying to take them into Thailand but were forced to abandon the plan.

About 500 Died

The major told a news conference that about 500 of the white prisoners, including about 100 Americans, died from malnutrition and other complications in prison during their stay.

Asked whether the Japs mistreated them, he replied: "I would rather not talk about it in detail but I will say that the Japs definitely use force when they are interrogating you."

Werner and other members of the crew were captured within a few hours after their plane crashed and exploded.

"We were taken to Jap headquarters where we were kept for 36 hours without food while we were being questioned," Werner said. "We had to sleep on the concrete floor."

Later, Werner said they were taken in trucks and housed in a common criminal jail in Rangoon, which previously had been condemned as unfit by British authorities.

"The enlisted men were made to work on air raid shelters and anti-aircraft guns, and the officers worked in the gardens to raise food, most of which went to the Japanese," he said.

The pilot said that between 40 and 50 per cent of the white prisoners died from dysentery and malnutrition.

On April 27th they were spotted by Allied planes, which mistook them for Japanese and strafed them. However, only one British officer was killed and a few suffered minor wounds.

Some members of the party were planning an escape as soon as they reached the Sittoung river, but they did not try out their plan because the Japanese commandant informed the two ranking Allied officers—one British and Col. Douglas Gilbert of 1312 N. Quincy St., Arlington, Va., that they were free.

Dedicate Cemetery On Okinawa With Fitting Ceremony

Last Respects Are Paid By Army To 1500 Fallen Comrades
On Island

By PAT ROBINSON
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

OKINAWA, July 10.—(AP)—Gen. J. L. Bradley and his 96th division on Okinawa paid their last respects Monday to 1,500 fallen comrades.

An honorary guard of 500 stood rigid while Bradley and eight commanders laid wreaths on the grave of an unknown hero in the impressive ceremony which dedicated the 96th cemetery.

A squad of riflemen fired three volleys over the rows of neat, white crosses interspersed with stars of David. Then the bugler sounded taps.

Throughout the ceremony a gentle breeze whipped the flags adorning every grave.

Brave Men

"They were brave men," Bradley commented. "They did not seek death but they understood there were worse things than death—cowardice, slavery and life without liberty."

"They died that our nation should never feel the degradation or undergo the hardships of a conquered people."

"If a man must die I know no better way than to give his life for his country, acquiring eternally against a desperate foe."

Chaplains participating in the ceremony were Captains Howard Patrick of Spencer, O., John Regan of Newton Highlands, Mass., Harry Schechtman of New York and Leonard Todd.

The 96th division suffered four times as many deaths on Okinawa as on Iwo Jima and casualties were the heaviest of the 24th corps.

Among those buried in the new cemetery are Brig. Gen. C. M. Easley of Waco, Tex.; Col. Edwin May of Palo Alto, Cal.; and Lieut. Col. Harmon Edmundson of Gainesville, Ga.

Japanese Air Force In China Loses Offensive

Collapses As Effective Air Arm In China Declares General
Chennault

KUNMING, China, July 10.—(AP)—The Japanese air force has collapsed as an effective offensive arm in China, Maj. Gen. Claire Chennault, commander of the 14th air force, today said.

Gen. Chennault suggested early opening of American ports to China to augment and later eliminate dangerous cargo flights across the Himalayan hump.

The famed former chief of the Flying Tigers said he believed that Shanghai would be the best base for American troops to seize. Small holdings such as Fowchow, he said, however, would be adequate.

Chennault said that Japanese, which once boasted with Japan's landing fields and networks of planes, is no longer an effective air base.

"One of our boys flew alone over Formosa a few days ago and wasn't even molested," he said.

The Chicago Natural History Museum claims ownership of the largest X-ray picture in the world. Film measuring seven by four feet was used to X-ray a mummy.
